

Glimpsed

the sighting briefly or in part, of something which intrigues and pulls you to further explore...

Works by Daphna Alon
Gin Dunscombe
Jackie Brown
Laura Moreton-Griffiths
Linda Duffy
Liz Dalton
Lucy Soni
Maria Beddoes
Moira Jarvis
Sara Mark
Susan Wood
Selena Jane Steele

24 January - 05 February 2011

Friday 28 January, 6-9pm

The artists invite you to preview the exhibition.

Admission free.

Friday 04 February

SLWA and the artists host a special, closing night event with live performance, artist talks and open mic. The evening will start at 7.15 pm. The door opens at 7.00 pm - get there early to ensure a seat.

£5 on the door for SLWA members, friends and students. £8 for non-members.

HOUSE

70 Camberwell Church St

London

SE5 8QZ

For more information visit:

southlondonwomenartists.co.uk

house-gallery.co.uk

Contact:

enquiries@lauramoretongriffiths.com

Q: What do steel blades, four dining chairs, a melting block of ice, a paper sculpture made from French hedges, a reliquary, and a pile of earth have in common?

A: They're all part of GLIMPSED, this idiosyncratic, interconnected and quietly provocative exhibition of sculpture, installation and work in 3D by women artists. The themes running through the exhibition evoke notions of locality, fragments, histories and memories both personal and shared. Made and curated by the artists, all of whom are members of South London Women Artists. The show ends on Friday 04 February.

Opening times:

Monday to Friday 8.30 - 4.30 pm

Saturday 9 - 5 pm

Closed Sundays